Proposed Regulation

Chapter 11 – Emergency and Medical Services (Units and Equipment)

1. General

- 1.12. An Ambulance, by law, must be registered with the DVLA (Driver and Vehicle licensing Authority), have suitable insurance and have the appropriate registration in place where required (for example CQC in England) ~~be CQC registered, where required,~~ in order to transport a casualty to hospital. An Ambulance must have a minimum crew of two consisting of an appropriately qualified driver to transport a casualty under blue lights, an appropriately qualified attendant and must carry the appropriate equipment listed in App.9 Table 1.

Date of Implementation: 01 January 2027

Reason: To cover devolved nations different regulations for blue light transfer.
